PROPOSED AMENDMENTS FOR DISCUSSION WITH EXAMINER NOT FOR ENTRY ******

1. (Amended to include subject matter of allowable dependent claim 8) A cabinet for housing computer devices, the cabinet comprising:

an internal chamber defined by a side wall arrangement having at least a front wall; a support structure configured to receive a plurality of computer devices, the support structure positioned within the internal chamber;

a substantially vertical duct defining a passageway for air distribution, the vertical duct positioned within the internal chamber, the vertical duct having a plurality of air discharge ports in fluid communication with the passageway, wherein each discharge port comprises an adjustable nozzle that can be selectively adjusted to control the quantity and direction of air flowing through the nozzle; and, an inlet fan in fluid communication with the passageway, the inlet fan positioned within the internal chamber.
